Det mennesket i dag har brug for er ikke ideolog.

I stedet har det brug for at sanse kontrol.

Uden kontrol over sanserne kan mennesket ikke blive spirituel.

Den Hellige Thyagaraja erklærede dette i en sang i hvilken han sagde at uden Åndens fred kan der ikke findes glæde for nogen uanset han er en lærd eller er én elev.

Kun gennem selv kontrol kan mennesket opleve fred.

What man needs today is not Siddhantam (ideology).

Instead, he needs sense-control. Without control of the senses, a man cannot become spiritual.

This was proclaimed by Saint Thyagaraja in his song wherein he said that without peace of the Spirit there can be no happiness for any one, whether he is a scholar or an novice.

Only through self-control can a man experience peace.
